Panama Matter.

(By Associated Press.).

WASHINGTON, June 8.—The opinion of Attorney-General Moody regarding the application of the eight bour law on the Islimus of Panarina was made public today. He holds that the act of August 1, 1832, which limits and restricts to eight bours the daily service of laborers and mechanics employed by the government of the United States or by any contractor or subcontractor upon the public tor or subcontractor upon the public works of the United States, applies to works of the United States, applies to the employment of laborers and mechanics in the construction of the Panama canal, but does not apply to the office force of the Isthmian Canal Commission stationed on the Isthmia of Panama, or to any of the employes of the government who are not within the ordinary maning of the words "laborers and mechanics." As to those laborers and mechanics in the employment of the Panama Rallroad and Steamship Line, the Attorney-General holds that the law does not apply.

ASK PARDON FOR GOLD BRICK MEN

One of Them Already Pardoned By Governor Aycock.

THE ANNUAL ENCAMPMENT

Rule Adopted to Prevent Similar Accidents to the One Last Year.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
RALEIGH, N. C., June S.—Governor Glenn is being urged to pardon the two Chicago gold brick men. Howard and Howley, sent up from Greensboro five years ago to serve ten years for attempting to bunce Paul Garrett, now of Norfolk, with a gold brick scheme. The pardons are asked on the ground that the two men have already been sufficiently punished, and that their offense was really nothing more than a misdemeanor. The Governor took their petition under consideration and has sent notice to interested parties at Greensboro, so a joint hearing can be had in the event any one cares to oppose the pardons.
There were three of the gold brick men, one—Daley—having been pardoned two years ago by Governor Aycock.
Lewis N. Jones, fifty years old, was brought to the penitentlary to-day from Anson county to serve twenty years for choking his wife to death His plea is that he was intoxicated and did not realize what he was doing.

Adjutant-General T. R. Robertson issues a general order for the holding of the samual encampments of the North Carollina National Guard, the First Infantry and Battery A, at Charlotte, August 3d to 8th, and Second and Third Infantry, at Wrightsville, July 20th to 25th. The regulations are set out in detail. Notable rule is No. 12, which requires that commissioned officers must be in tained over troops on trains en route; that commissioned officers must be in personal command of each car, with sen-tinels to prevent riding on platform or on top of cars.

This rule is incorporated on account of the killing of the two members of the Durham Company, near Goldsboro, last year, while the companies were being transported from Morchead Camp to their homes. The men were riding on top o a car and were struck by an overhead

CHOATE BACK AND DELIGHTED TO SEE AMERICA ONCE MORE

Late Ambassador to England, in High Spirits, Cracks Jokes With Newspaper Men.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
NEW YORK, June 8.—Joseph H. Choate returned home yesterday on the Cunard liner Caronia, after having served six years as American Ambassador in London. In midocean he passed White law Reid going to take the vacated post. Unusual attention has been paid to these two men by the British nation. Mr. Choate during the past month has been loaded with farewell honors by official, educational and legal associates, and overfed at innumerable banquets. Mr. Reid, the cables report, was welcomed with almost royal ceremonies.

In striking contrast with the British formalities was the landing of Mr. Choate yesterday afternoon. There were no delegations with addresses to present, no warms of obsequious officials, no royal special trains, no crowds at stations kept back by policemen, such as marked the landing of Mr. Reid at Plymouth and the landing of Mr. Reid at Flymouth and his journey up to London.

Half a dozen newspaper reporters boarded the Caronia at quarantine and were received with joking conversation. At the pier several members of Mr. Choate's family greeted him warmly, and all joined in laughter as the instant reverse are photographers (area). sistent newspaper photographers forced him to stand apart while they snapshotted him from all sides. knocking him against the opposite side of the tank.

Inif stumed by the blow, Snyder lifted his legs just in time to escape the mighty jaws of the alligator. The keeper then dealt the alligator a blow over the head and held it against the side of the tank while he worked. When the alligator would wriggle free, the keeper would hold it again with his pike, and finally completed his task.

Snyder then backed away to the edge and vanited to the ground, but quick as he was, "Lanky Bob" snapped and retained a strip of cloth from Snyder's trousers as a memento of the visit.

Open Warehouses in South.

(By Associated Press.)

NEW YORK, June 8.—A formal vote has been taken by the floor members of the New York Cotton Exchange shows that the plan of certificating cotton in southern warehouses, which has been in agliation for many months on the Exchange has considerable opposition. The vote was on the question of making a change in the by-laws which would be necessary before the plan could be adopted. The mainhers, by a vote of 53-to 40, refused to make the required change and sont the amendment back to the board of managers with instructions to permit the membership to vote on the plan itself. The plan provides for warehouses where deliveries may be made in ten southern cities, under the supervision of officers of the New York Cotton Exchange with proper insurance provisions, and with an officer in each city representing the exchange.

WILLIAMSBURG, VA., June 8—A regro, representing himself to be W. C. Cook, an undertaker from Newport News, was arrested yesterday at Toano by Sheriff W. W. Ware on a charge of obtaining money under false pretense. It seems that a negro named Brown died in Newport News a few days ago, and his remains were shipped to Major Brown, his brother, at Toano. When the train arrived a negro 'alighted from it and asked for Major Brown, to when the Introduced himself as W. C. Cook, and said that he was an undertaker from Newport News, and presented a bill for $12, which he said, was due on the coffin, which Brown paid. Brown was told not to open the case, as it was against the law. This warfing, however, was disregarded, and when the case was opened it was found that it did not contain: a coffin, but the body was laid on some excelsior, with hardly any clothing on it. The doctor who attended the deceased negro in Newport News was communicated with, who said that the coffin had been paid for in Newport News.

The man said; when arrested, that his name was Peter Ash. He was given a hearing before in, justice and held for the grand jury.
